

Global Walmart Emergency Management Team

Presentation:

Virtually Impossible? The Adventures of Taking the World's Largest Company through the Great Unknown and Beyond!

The Global Walmart Emergency Management Team will share their lessons learned transforming the world's largest retailer's global emergency response infrastructure to a virtual environment. The team will share their journey of adapting and implementing their enterprise-wide resiliency planning strategy, pivoting their engagement with public-private sector entities and adjusting their crisis technology approach to support future virtual responses and recovery efforts.
