

Julian Ochoa

Emergency Preparedness Manager for DAFN & Vulnerable Communities
City of Houston, Office of Emergency Management

Julian Ochoa is the inaugural Emergency Preparedness Manager for DAFN and Vulnerable Communities. Ochoa worked with the Houston Office of Emergency Management as a Community Engagement Coordinator updating the City's plans for Comprehensive Emergency Management and Hazard Mitigation, as well as the Office's DAFN Framework.

Prior to his time with the City, Ochoa worked for Harris County, Baker Ripley, and UNESCO United Nations Paris within the Legal Committee of Human Rights and Resilience Committee, U.N. United Nations Vienna, Department for Drugs and Crime Prevention (UNODC).

Ochoa holds a Law Degree from Universidad Catolica del Táchira, Venezuela; a Masters in International Business (Harvard Negotiation Program) from Pompeu Fabra University School of Business in Barcelona, Spain, and is a former Doctoral student at the Universidad de Salamanca Law School in Salamanca, Spain. In his downtime, Julian loves to enjoy time with his wife and children.