

Robert Troy

Assistant Director for Interagency Recovery Coordination
California Governor's Office of Emergency Services

Robert Troy is the Assistant Director for Interagency Recovery Coordination at the California Governor's Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES), where he currently serves as the State Disaster Recovery Coordinator for the 2023 California winter storms and floods.

Robert previously served as the Federal Disaster Recovery Coordinator for FEMA Region IX, facilitating disaster recovery coordination and collaboration between the Federal, Tribal, State and local governments, the private sector and voluntary, faith-based and community organizations.

Prior to his time at FEMA, Robert served in various leadership positions for the Santa Barbara County Office of Emergency Management, the City of Chicago's Office of Emergency Management and Communications, and the Chicago Police Department's Office of Professional Standards. He is proud to be an alum of the Big City Emergency Managers Emerging Leaders Program, and to be a member of IAEM with a CEM credential.
