WHY JOIN AND WHY STAY?

"I joined IAEM to learn from the largest network of emergency managers, I stay to ensure that researchers and practitioners of color know that there is a place for us in this field and our Association" - Susamma Seeley CEM, PhD Student, University of Delaware

"I joined IAEM when I was in my graduate program for my masters degree and wanted to build my network and to meet new people in the emergency management field. I stay because of that network. During the COVID-19 pandemic I was able to reach out to my network and lean on them when I was experiencing challenges or needed answers to my questions. It allows me to see what other people are doing across the country, in different regions and in different countries." Nate Almeida, Program Coordinator, Security and Emergency Management, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, Boston, MA
