Poster Showcase – What is it?

The purpose of the Poster Showcase presentation is to convey to a wide audience the significance of an individual's research project, practice, or general findings to practitioners and scholars in the emergency management community, as well as the general public.

The Poster Showcase is open to students, academics, and practitioners. IAEM recognizes much of the work happening across the industry happens at an organizational level, however, the Poster Showcase is an opportunity to share the work of individuals, not organizations.

Participants chosen to display their posters will receive certificates of participation that document credit towards the IAEM Certification Program under Professional Contribution Category F, Speaking.

Participants may not endorse brand names, specific products or government, commercial or non-profit organizations in their presentation.

Under no circumstances may this platform be used as a place for direct promotion of a participant's product, service or organization. Any participant who violates this policy jeopardizes his or her opportunity to present at future IAEM conferences.

Division Selection

---

Entrants must select to showcase their work in either the Non-Competitive or Competitive Divisions. Only one entry per person.

Non-Competitive Division

The Non-Competitive Division is for those who want to share their knowledge or findings obtained through experience and/or research in practice without the competitive evaluation.

Competitive Division

All participants in the Competitive Division will present their poster in front of a group of evaluators who will determine if the participants satisfied the requirements of a gold, silver, or bronze standard. Participants can enter in one of three categories.

The ideology of the Vichy regime 1940-1944: a history of compromise and adaptation
David Lees
d.lees@warwick.ac.uk
Supervisors: Professor Nick Hewlett and Dr Jessica Wardhaugh

Context
This poster is a synopsis of the first chapter of my thesis and outlines some of the central arguments of my doctoral research. In the chapter, I examine how our understanding of ideology has been shaped by theorists, including Marx and Engels, Antonio Gramsci and Louis Althusser.

Key questions
• Can we easily identify ideology in the Occupation years?
• How is Gramsci's concept of hegemony relevant to Vichy ideology?
• Was the regime's ideology ever representative of a clear break with the Republican tradition?

1. Ideology: A working definition
Before looking closely at the history of ideology during the Occupation, it is important to discuss what the term actually means. There is no over-arching or widely-accepted definition of ideology, so for the purposes of this thesis, ideology refers to 'A set of ideas, beliefs, opinions and values. A body of concepts that help to legitimize a dominant power.'

2. A new ideology?
Vichy replaced the values of the Republic—liberty, equality, fraternity—with those of the Catholic Church, the Fascist regime and the Vichy regime. Philippe Pétain was revered as the head of the French state and the extreme reaction, or Phalangisme, was at the forefront of the National Revolution.

3. Hegemony in practice?
Despite Vichy's intention to break with the Republican tradition, the everyday reality during the Occupation was far more complex. Antonio Gramsci's concept of hegemony, in other words, is usefully applied to Vichy ideology.

Conclusions: a typical ideology?
Researcher's thesis, however, suggested that the combination of Gramsci's and Althusser's theories can be used to describe a 'typical' ideology, rather than a 'new' ideology, as the Vichy regime was a continuation of the Republican tradition.

REVOLUTION NATIONALE
R. Vignat, 1942, BNC APP 3093 (1)
This is one of the clearest examples of how Vichy attempted to ideology as a clear break with the Republican tradition. The two houses depict the Republic (left) and Vichy (right).
