

David is a graduate of Memorial University with both a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Commerce degrees. He has also earned his Certified Emergency Managers certification in 2017 and received his Certified Business Continuity Professional in 2019.

David is employed with the St. John's Regional Fire Department and is responsible for the implementation of the City of St. John's Emergency and Continuity program. He has been in the emergency services field for 13 years 9 of which have been in his current role and 4 years as Executive Director of the Search and Rescue Volunteer Association of Canada.

Prior to the emergency services field he spent 12 years in the telecommunications industry in Enterprise Sales. An active volunteer, he has logged 30 years with Rovers Search and Rescue and has volunteered with various IAEM Canada Council Committees for the past 6 years.

As a member of the Atlantic Region Executive team my goal is to continue to assist in bringing Atlantic members together in the appropriate forums so that we can share best practices and more importantly create a network of Emergency Management professionals in the Atlantic provinces.
